

DECRESCENDO

Decrescendo is an Italian word that means "Going little by little from loud to soft" or decreasing the volume little by little. In music we use a symbol like this

This symbol sometimes is very short if you want just a few notes to be affected by this, or it can be longer over a few measures. Most instruments have the ability to play soft or loud.